Promote reading the Bible in your church. Get it, live it, share it

The value of the Bible lies in its use. Did you know that 9 out of 10 adults have no regular engagement with the Bible? Let's keep the message of the Bible alive for future generations and spread The Word.

This Bible Sunday, celebrate the joy of encountering Jesus through the scriptures, and share that experience through Fresh from The Word. Would you get your church to join with others across the country in celebrating the Bible with IBRA's Fresh from The Word?

Fresh from The Word: Read, Reflect, Grow is a unique companion for your daily Bible reading and reflection. Each week changes as passages have been chosen to explore themes, alternated with weeks focused on a selected book or gospel. Day by day read a short passage from your Bible, accompanied by thoughts in response to it from one of 50 international writers who offer down-to-earth, personal insights together with a prayer and an idea for further thought or action.

For additional information, here are a further 89 words:

Fresh from The Word provides an accessible way to fit reading and contemplation on scripture into each day. Its writers include theologians, church leaders, activists and ordinary lay people, each with different experiences of navigating life through good and bad times and of meeting both joys and struggles in their walk with God. Encounter scripture throughout the year alongside a global community who use IBRA (International Bible Reading Association) reading schemes which have been encouraging people around the world since 1882 when IBRA first published lists for daily study.
